

Jeremy Jones
Global Marketing Director, Domino Printing Sciences
jeremy.jones@domino-uk.com

Jeremy Jones has been Global Marketing Director at Domino Printing Sciences for more than five years, and has 30 years of B2B marketing experience, the majority of which has been in the technology sector. He has overseen marketing in several global organisations, but has also worked in software start-ups, helping one to achieve dynamic growth and ultimately acquisition by Oracle.

Jeremy has spent most of the last ten years supporting the manufacturing and process industries, continuously striving to understand the commercial priorities that influence production decisions and to keep customers at the heart of all strategic planning.

Jeremy holds a bachelor's degree in English language and literature from UCE, Birmingham, and a master's degree in radio from Goldsmiths' College, London.